Experiential Learning and Career Preparation

1. What specific things should I be doing to begin to prepare myself for internships and career opportunities?

to prepare for internships, I am starting to create projects of my own, where I have the chance to show my skills in CS and get good opportunities

2. What study abroad programs exist for CS/College of Engineering students? Are you considering any study abroad programs? If so, which one(s)?

Unfortunately, because of my commitment to Virginia Tech Men's Soccer Team I won't be able to do a study abroad program, so I've considered none.

3. Identify at least one student organization you are interested in joining/learning more about

I am planning on joining Computer Science Careers at Virginia Tech

Student Wellness & Support

1. Research the Timely Care App and consider downloading it to your mobile device.

2. Identify at least two scholarships you will apply for in the future.

Currently, I haven't considered applying to any scholarship's, this is because I am part of the VT Men's Soccer team, and with this, scholarships are already granted. I will look ahead, and consider any scholarships for the future for a Masters at the University.

3. Besides academic planning, for what other things will you go to your assigned advisor for help and support?

I will contact my academic advisor to help me with support by managing the classes I will take in a future, and by asking for seek of internship opportunities
